3 person has recommended Gregory

"Gregory is a talented engineer whose responsiveness and creativity in development of his firm's approach to a very complex project proposal was much appreciated. His understanding and patience over a long drawn out process was very helpful."

— Phil Kinsella, was Gregory's client

"It was a pleasure to report to Greg for 2 years at Arup. He was responsive and easy to approach, with good advice for training and work related tasks for a graduate engineer."

— Moiz Kapadia, reported to Gregory at Arup

"I had the pleasure of working with Greg during the construction and commissioning of the Philadelphia Museum of Art Perelman project. Greg consistently demonstrated the technical knowledge and customer focus required to lead the team effort associated with successfully completing this project. I look forward to any future opportunities to work along side Greg in future construction projects."
